

ABOUT

QBurgh is Pittsburgh and western Pennsylvania's source for LGBTQ news and community resources. Always by the LGBTQ Community and always for the LGBTQ Community. If it's queer, it's here.

CONTENT

Breaking news, celebrity interviews, local personality spotlights, community resources, opinion, health & wellness, event reviews, and more.

PREVIOUS PARTNERSHIPS

Pittsburgh Pirates
Walnut Capital
Pittsburgh Cultural Trust
Visit Pittsburgh
FBI - Pittsburgh Field Office
Pittsburgh Opera

OPPORTUNITIES

- Sponsorships
- Sponsored Content
- Display Ads
- Sponsored Social
- Newsletter
- Print

AUDIENCE DEMOGRAPHICS

-  32,500 Monthly Readers
-  29K Email Subs
-  345.1K 90-day Reach

READY TO JUMP IN?
HELLO@QBURGH.COM

QBURGH.COM

The screenshot shows the QBURGH.COM website. The main article is titled "Pine-Richland School District Sued Over Protections for Trans Students". The sidebar includes social media links for Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram, a "Latest" section with recent articles, and a newsletter sign-up form.

EMAIL

The screenshot shows an email newsletter from QBURGH.COM. It features a large image of a drag performer, a headline "Fairweather says Farewell", and a "READ MORE" button. At the bottom, there is a sign-up button and a social media link.

DID YOU SAY PRINT?

HELLO@QBURGH.COM

Available for free at LGBTQ bars, restaurants, and businesses; Carnegie Library branches; and select Giant Eagle and Shop N Save locations, the twice-annual QBurgh print magazine highlights local community volunteers, spotlights community organizations and resources, covers the hottest topics of the LGBTQ Community of Pittsburgh, and includes all the details on the biggest LGBTQ-centered events across the region.

The QBurgh print issues have become much anticipated and valuable community resources.